

SOCIOLOGY

Sociology is the study of human society and human social interaction. Our department explores a wide range of issues relevant to our lives — social inequality and social justice, crime and deviance, race and gender relations, dating and intimate relationships, and the impact of the internet on society and interpersonal relationships. We emphasize teaching as the top priority of the department, set high standards for student achievement, involve students in research, provide opportunities for student engagement in multicultural events and encourage civic involvement.

POTENTIAL CAREERS:

Case Management & Advocacy

Corrections

Data Analysis

Demography

Human Services

Law Enforcement

Market Research

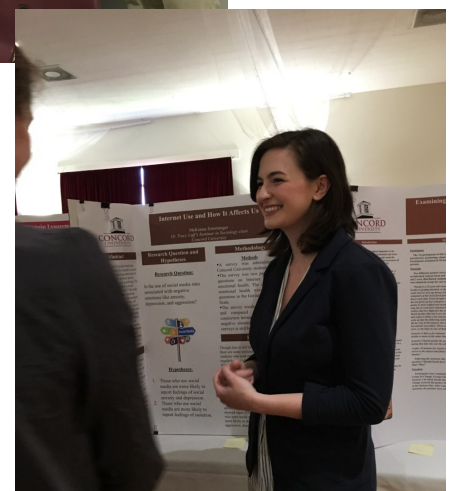

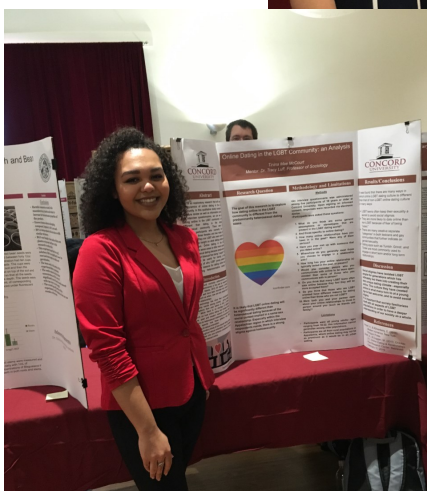

Program & Policy Analysis

Program Planning & Administration

Rehabilitation

Social Science Research

Teaching

Have Questions? Want to learn more? Contact:

Dr. Tracy Luff | tluff@concord.edu | 304-384-6085